ROC Meeting Notes Wednesday, June 23, 2021 9:00 – 10:00

Χ	Some of the benefits of going through these courses are that it gives you the certification, the increa knowledge and the ability to function easily in your job. It also gives you credentials if you were to apply for a promotion. It is a great way to increase competency in the skills of research administration

- x In order to join the course, it is recommended that you obtain a b£ttecommendation from your supervisor.
- x This is a teambased learning class which means that it is on a flipped classroom model. You will do th work before you come to class and then will come to class with this body of knowledge and work wit your tem to figure out the answers to these problems. So, it's not just building your knowledge are awareness of research administration information, but it also builds your connections and your network.

- x Julie Schwindt: We have to segregate these participant support costs, so G&C Accounting sets up separate FOARL and excludes if from F&A, for it and then that way we can pay. If you are getting push back for a faculty member or anyone else that wants to charge something that you know is allowable, please let OGCA know and it will be moved off that account.
- x If you are ever unsure if something that a faculty member wants to put under participant support co and you are unsure, please reach out to the SPA office and we will be happy to look over it with you a research it a little bit further as to get it takeare of early on.

Julie Schwindt, Finance and Administration

- x Cost Transfer-OGCA is still seeing cost transfers older than they would like so, we are going to be revising the Cost Transfer form. Here is a scenario: You have an expense on one gyant what to move to another grant. OGCA is going to have a field on the form that says, in the event this is denie where do you want it moved to a ngrant source, because once you put that justification out there on why it's not allowable on the firstgrant because it's allowable on the second grant, it's no longer allowable on the first grant.
- x We will then have to see how much time has passed, what does the justification look like, which cou be technical in nature in why this expense shouldn't btherfirst grant and should be on the second one –this is a red flag as far as compliance goes, we are not going to approve it to go on the second grant It doesn't matter how legitimate it is, we will be happy to move it to a cost share account and the in reality it should be moved to a cost share account if you are saying that it is applicable to that project
- x If the project is too old, we are not going to move it, but we still have to get it off that old project, no matter what. Moving forward, OGCA will need a FOAPAL so if it's denied, we will change the forms and put it through to take it off the old grant and put it onto a departmental source of funding. We also might be able to handle this through an activity code, like we do with closeouts way have can keep track of cost transfers that probably should have gone on a project.
- x 90 days is the time period, if it is over 90 days you need to start preparing yourself that these are going to be approved unless there is a VERY good reason, i.e., you are waiting on funding, do preliminary account and if præward costs are allowable or if you think your agreement is going to be backdatedor the award was received late, it is becoming less and less of a reason.
- x The big issue is with Federal resetargrants and research contracts, but, to be clear that, with the stimulus funding we received, we met the threshold last year to submit our disclosure statement

ROC Meeting Notes

Wednesday, September 1,52021 9:00 – 10:00 AM

Angela Jordan, Research Communications, Development & Learning x Internal funding reminders –

Gina Hedberg, Deborah Musgrove, Sponsored Projects Administration

- x Utilizing the Attorney's Agreement Portal This portal is not to be used to route funding agreements. Every agreement that supports funding at the University should come directly to the Sponsored Proje office. There have been a couple that have found their way into the Legal office and all it does is slo you down because they will stop that and redirect it to our office. And what may have been sitting for couple of days to go through their approval process, only adds to the time that that agreement will reviewed and then hopefully, subsequently approved. So, please be mindful of that, if it is an agreem associated with funding for a sponsored project, it does need to come to the SPA office, not to the Le office.
- x Issuance of NSF Grants.gov Application Guide the grants.gov application guide has been updated which will align with the NSF proposal and award guide. There are a couple of updates on the summa of changes:

o The res To2	(h	f)3	(undi)-2	(n-2	(	t)r
0 1110 100 102	/··	.,0	(4.1.4.)	\·· –	'	٠,٠

- As of yesterday, a new process for requiring J numbers now have to provide a 49 form and ACH form, found on the Purchasing website under the Vendor Information by the documents when putting in a request for a new sponsor. Once AP supplies us with a new J number. This process may a little bit longer that it has in the past. The proposal should not be routed until the sponsor/subcontract has been added to Cayusfeit Is, the proposal will be reopened and should not be routed again until the sponsor is in the system lease see attachment the ROC webpage beled "Procedure to Request New Sponsor/Subcontractor to Cayuse Syniste
- x FY20 Annual Report We are currentlyworking on the report, checking and double checking.have found some routing issues are being addressed here was over $100 million in research awarded this year. The report should be posted on the ORED wite by early next week.
